

From confidential customer and employee data to strategic business plans and sensitive internal documents, your Google Workspace environment is a central vault of information for your organization. There’s nothing more important than safeguarding your company’s products and personnel.

Join Promevo for a Google Workspace Security Review, where our Google-certified team will audit your Workspace instance for security vulnerabilities, ensure alignment with compliance requirements, and enhance your overall security posture.

What You Get With Promevo

Our Google Workspace Security Review is designed to give you the technical and professional support you need to safeguard your company’s sensitive information.

Phase 1: Kickoff

We’ll start by collaborating with your key stakeholders to review the overall project, discuss your security goals, and set up access to your Workspace environment.

Phase 2: Assessment

Next, we conduct a full review of your Workspace, including: security configurations and processes, domain account recovery, admin alerting, event monitoring, user training, and incident response handling.

Phase 3: Wrap-Up

Finally, we’ll gather for a session on how to execute our top-priority recommended actions. We’ll provide documented recommended configurations and a prioritized action plan to improve your security posture. We’ll also assist with changes and remediation to settings or configurations within your Workspace production environment.
