Promevo

IT is tasked with enabling employees to do their best work, using the best tools

But the two times most employees remember interacting with IT are:

01 Getting their computer (deliver it)

02 Submitting support tickets (fix it)

But you're stuck...

Managing
help desk
tickets

Resolving security incidents

Taking support calls

Equipping employees with the basics

Answering repeated questions

Creating stop-gaps for software training

Responding to external threats

And much more...

Licensed apps

Licensed users

You need to be more

Reactive → Proactive

Necessary → Critical

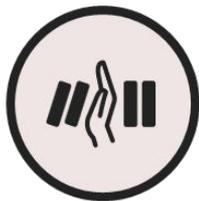

Filling deficits → Adding value

... without doing more.

Onboard

Don't miss your shot to set users up for success

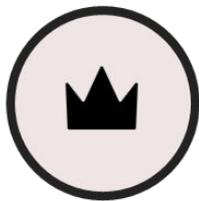

Remediate

Automatically catch and call out users' less-than-ideal work habits

Transition

Manage the people side of technology changes

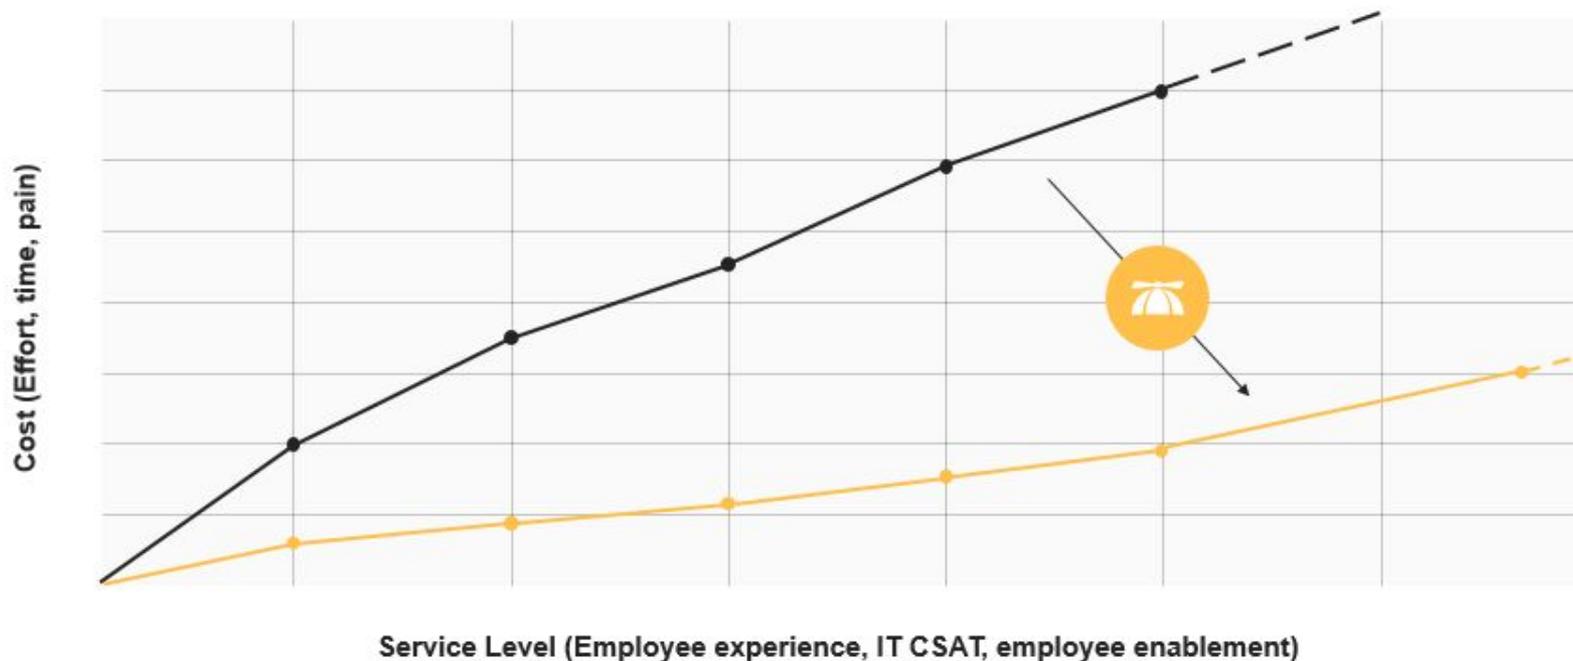

Optimize

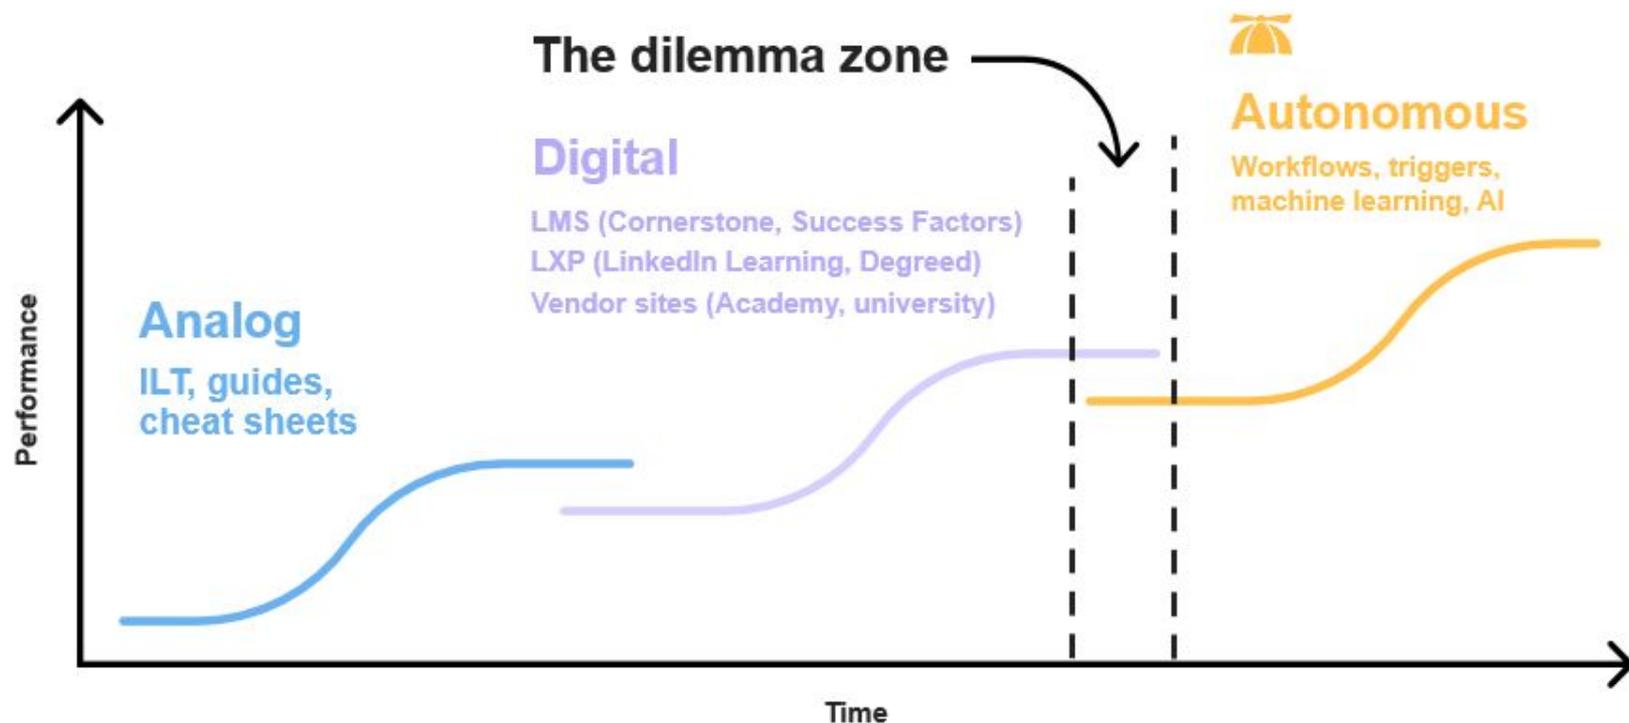

Don't risk the ROI of your software investments

What are your most important adoption priorities?

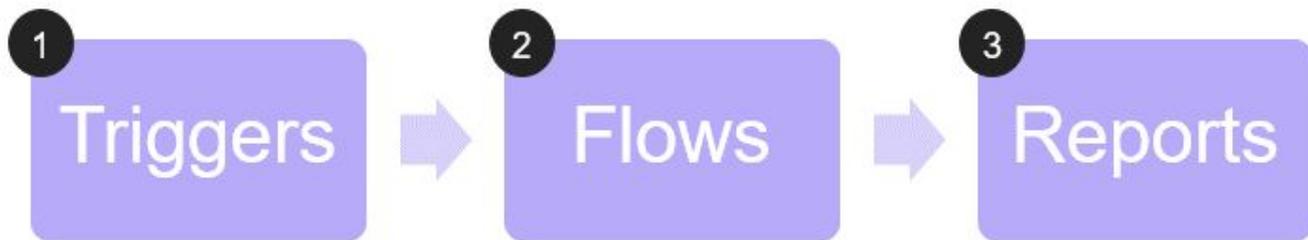

Make it easier, better, and less expensive.

A new way is required

Autonomous adoption in 1, 2, 3...
